prepared address for the occasion, expressing the esteem in which he is held by those who know him best. Mr. Noah Hallman presented the gift, a meerschaum pipe and a pound can of tobacco. At 12.30 lunch was served under the supervision of Mrs. E. Wait. Mr. Seibel replied, convincing the guests of his regrets of leaving his sincere friends. Games and dancing were indulged in until the wee small hours of the morning. Mr. Samuel Graham furnished the music for the evening.

ZAM-BUK DOES CURE PILES

Mrs. C. Hanson, wife of the proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, 1001 St. James St., Didsbury, B.C., suffered from piles for years. Went to doctor after doctor in vain. Finally went to Spokane and had an operation. Twelve months afterwards she was as bad again. She says, "One day I read about Zam-Buk and thought I would try it. The first one or two boxes gave me more ease than anything else I had tried, so I went on with the treatment. In a short time I began to feel altogether different and better, and I saw that Zam-Buk was going to cure me. Well, I went on using it, and by the time I had used six boxes I was delighted to find myself entirely cured."

If you suffer from this painful ailment, or from eczema, ulcers or any skin disease, don't waste time. Try Zam-Buk. 50c. all druggists and stores.

THEATREGOERS WIN STRIKE

Takes Just Nine Seconds for Manager to Surrender

Sydney.—Theatregoers of Mount Gambier, in South Australia, went on strike recently.

The management of a travelling company demanded 2s. for admission. The visitors did not propose to pay more than 1s. and after a hasty consultation outside the entrance formed a theatregoers' union. Pickets were stationed and within a few minutes 278 people—practically all who were there—had agreed not to pay the 2s.

The manager appeared at the doorway and refused to make the required reduction.

"I'll give you till I count twenty said the newly elected president of the newest union, and after that our price will be 6d. instead of 1s. He counted slowly to nine and then the manager capitulated.

The strike was declared at an end and the quondam strikers trooped into the hall, and the union was dissolved after an existence of about twenty minutes.

MARCH WEATHER RHEUMATIC WEATHER

Victims Can Cure Themselves With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

With the coming of March people who are afflicted with rheumatism begin to have unpleasant reminders of their trouble. The weather is changeable—balmy and springlike one day, raw, cold and piercing the next. It is such sudden changes of weather that sets the pangs and tortures of rheumatism, lumbago and sciatica going.

But it must be borne in mind that although with her conditions start the pains, the trouble is deeply rooted in the blood, and can only be cured through the blood. All the lotions and ointments in the world can't cure rheumatism. Rubbing may seem to ease the pain while you are rubbing, but there its value ends. Only through the blood can you cure rheumatism. That's why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have so many thousands of cures of this trouble to their credit. The new rich blood which they actually make drives out the poisonous acid and rheumatism is vanquished. Among many sufferers from rheumatism who have been cured by this medicine is Miss Mary B. Kelly, South Dummer, Ont. Miss Kelly says: "Some time ago I had a very bad attack of rheumatism. At times I would be confined to bed for a couple of days and would seem almost paralyzed with the intense pain in my back and legs. At such times I could not walk and my joints were stiff and swollen. I consulted different doctors and took their medicine, but did not get more than temporary relief. At this time a neighbor advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I got a supply. After taking a few boxes I found they were greatly helping me, and I continued their use until the trouble completely disappeared. I can strongly recommend this medicine to others who suffer as I did from the pangs and tortures of rheumatism."

If you suffer from rheumatism, or any other disease of the blood, begin to cure yourself today with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Won Fame on its Merits.—The unbounded popularity that Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil enjoys is not attributable to any elaborate advertising, for it has not been so advertised, but is entirely due to the merits of this Oil as a medicine. In every city, town and hamlet in the country it is sought after solely because of its good qualities.

Sure Proof

But are you sure, persisted the grouchy customer, that this 'ere stuff will cure my rheumatiz?
Oh, yes, replied the drug clerk; all the doctors refuse to recommend it.

Ease That Sore Joint Nerviline Will Do It

The Champion Clog and Pedestal Dancer of Canada Tells How to Keep in Trim

Few men in his profession are better known than Mr. Thomas Hogan, of 27 Fortification Lane, Montreal, who writes:—"To limber up a stiff joint, to remove every sense of soreness from tired muscles I can tell you nothing compares with Nerviline. It is really a wonderful liniment, and I use it continually simply because I find it keeps the muscles and joints supple and entirely free from pain and stiffness. I earnestly recommend Nerviline to every person that requires to use a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment."

For Rheumatism Nerviline is a wonder; for Sciatica it cures where others fail; for Lumbago, stiffness and cold, nothing surpasses it. Keep Nerviline handy—it's good to take inwardly, destroys internal pains quickly, and is just as good for outward application. Large family size bottle, 50c; small size, 25c; at all druggists and grocers or The Catarhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y.

TRAGIC LAMP EXPLOSION

Woman Blaze Sets Child's Clothes on Fire

Paris.—A dramatic scene occurred recently outside a house in the Faubourg St. Martin in Paris.

Mme. Haumont was filling a lamp when it exploded and set fire to her clothes. Her husband was out, and her two children, a baby boy 2 years old and a girl 5, were in the room with her.

The woman rushed to the window, screamed for help, and as the flames from her clothing caught those of the baby in her arms, she threw him down to a woman in the street who tried to catch him in her apron. The apron strings broke, the baby was badly hurt and Mme. Haumont, who threw herself out of the window after her child, broke both her legs.

A fireman made his way into the house and rescued the elder child, the girl, who had become unconscious. The baby's condition is critical.

GOLF AT OLYMPIC GAMES

English Cricket, However, Is Rejected at Berlin

Berlin.—Golf will appear for the first time in the Olympic Games program at Berlin in 1936. The schedule of events just drawn up by the German managerial committee states that the committee has decided to include golf, after rejecting cricket.

The committee has also determined as a special compliment to the great German gymnastic organizations, to give gymnastic experts a special place in the program in an exhibition of this German specialty. The teams will also meet in competition gymnasts from other countries.

What kind of a silo will yours be?

Wood—or Concrete?

If you were to build two silos—one of wood, the other of concrete—side by side, and then could see them as they will look after five years of service, you wouldn't have to think twice to decide which is the best material. In a few years more there wouldn't be much of the original wooden silo left—the repairing you'd have to do would be as troublesome and cost as much as the building of an entirely new one. But the passage of five, ten, fifteen or even twenty years will make no difference to the hard-as-rock wall of the concrete silo.

CONCRETE SILOS LAST FOREVER

WIND, rain, fire and lightning are alike defied by concrete. You need no insurance against its destruction, because it cannot be destroyed. Concrete silos are best for another reason. The concrete keeps the ensilage at an even temperature, so that it "cures" better, and therefore contains more food-value for your stock.

YOU CAN BUILD ONE YOURSELF

NO matter whether you have ever used concrete or not, you can build a concrete silo. Our book, "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete," gives all the information you will need, not only about silos, but about scores of other uses for concrete on the farm. It isn't a catalogue, nor an advertising circular. A handsome book of 160 pages, well illustrated, and written for farmers. It is free. Just send your name and address on a postcard or in a letter and the book will be sent free by return mail.

Make Us Prove It

We dare not exaggerate to you. We are dependent upon your patronage. To get it we must have your trust and confidence. We make the following statements with a full understanding of what they mean to us. You are safe when you believe in these statements.

For the Bowels

If you only knew as much as we and those who have used them know about Rexall Orderlies, you would be as enthusiastic about recommending them as we are. They taste just like candy. They act so easily and so pleasantly that the taking of them is a pleasure.

Even children like Rexall Orderlies; and you know that if a medicine appeals to a child, it will appeal to grown-ups.

Rexall Orderlies

help chase gloom, dispel blues and make you feel happy by their splendid tonic, cleansing and strengthening effect upon the bowels. They act to free the system---and keep it free---from the distress and ill feeling that naturally results from irregular and inactive bowels.

Rexall Orderlies do this quietly, without griping or causing nausea, purging or excessive looseness. They act to overcome and remove the cause of bowel ills and in a short time usually make unnecessary the continued use of physics and purgatives, thus tending to stop such unhealthy habits as may have been formed.

Make us Prove This

We do not ask you to take our word for this. We want you to make us prove it, and at no cost to you.

Buy a box of Rexall Orderlies at our store. Use them once, or use up the whole box. Then, if you are not thoroughly satisfied, just come back empty handed and tell us. Without obligating you or questioning you we will return the money you paid us for them.

Doesn't that indicate that Rexall Orderlies are at least worthy of trial? Doesn't it prove our faith in them? Doesn't it merit your confidence? Could any other be more fair to you?

We particularly recommend Rexall Orderlies for children, delicate and aged persons. Rexall Orderlies come in convenient vest-pocket size tin boxes. 12 tablets, 10c; 36 tablets, 25c; 80 tablets, 50c.

CAUTION: Please bear in mind that Rexall Orderlies are not sold by all drug stores. You can buy Rexall Orderlies only at the Rexall Stores. You can buy Rexall Orderlies in this community only at our store:

THE amendments to the new Town Act have been sent out by the Alberta government and by all appearances the amendments, or some of them at least, do not make the path of the town Council any easier in raising revenue, nor do they assist the taxpayer living in the town. Here's one instance. Section 294 of the Town Act has been amended by adding "In case of a town school district the rate of taxation on unsubdivided farm lands situated outside the limits of the town shall not exceed 8 mills on the dollar." Do you get this? It means that if the School Board estimates require that the town shall levy a rate of say 19 mills for school purposes the same as last year, the parts of the school district outside of the town limits only pay 8 mills while the taxpayers in the town will have to make up the difference. Again, the owners of farms within the town limits who are using the farms for purely agricultural purposes have to pay the extra taxation as well, and goodness knows that under the new system of taxation they are taxed enough. There's not much justice about this amendment. The school taxpayer living outside of the town limits is not assessed as high on their farm land as the man living in the town limits, as his land is worth more, consequently by limiting the tax rate to 8 mills the man living outside gains every way while the other man suffers both in higher assessment and higher taxes.

Death Caused by Fire

The many friends of Mr. James McGhee, C. P. R. agent in Didsbury, and Miss McGhee of the Royal Bank, will be sorry to learn of the death of their sister, Mrs. R. T. Anderson, at Edmonton, under distressing circumstances on Saturday morning last.

Death was caused by burning. The accident occurred on Tuesday evening, March 18th, but it is not known just how it happened. At the time Mr. McGhee, father of the unfortunate woman, and Inspector Graham happened to be chatting at the gate of Mr. Anderson's residence when they saw her rush from the house with her clothing in flames. They immediately went to her assistance and extinguished the fire and medical aid was summoned, but she was so badly burned that she succumbed on Saturday morning last. The remains were brought down to Innisfail on Monday, where interment took place.

Besides her husband Mrs. Anderson leaves a little daughter between two and three years of age, her father, a brother at Innisfail and brother and sister in Didsbury to mourn her loss.

"The death of Mrs. Robert T. Anderson, wife of R. T. Anderson, Scottish bard of this city, which occurred Saturday at the family residence, 57 First street, has cast a gloom over a large circle of friends.

The deceased was a young woman---only twenty-five years of age---and until last Tuesday was in the bloom of health.

Mr. Anderson, who is very well known in the city, having written much about the western land, and who is one of the health inspectors of the city, will receive the deepest sympathy of many friends. A little child is also left to mourn her loss."---Edmonton Bulletin.

You judge a man not by what he promises to do, but by what he has done. That is the only true test. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy judged by this standard has no superior. People everywhere speak of it in the highest terms of praise. For sale by all dealers.

The Song My Paddle Sings

[Written by Pauline Johnson the popular Indian poetess who died recently at Vancouver and whose death caused deep sorrow all over Canada.]

West wind, blow from your prairie nest,
Blow from the mountains, blow from the west.

The sail is idle, the sailor, too;

Oh, wind of the west, we wait for you.
Blow, blow!

I have wooed you so,
But never a favor you bestow.
You rock your cradle, the hills between,
But scorn to notice my white lateen.

I stow the sail, unship the mast;
I wooed you long, but my wooing's past;
My paddle will lull you into rest
O drowsy wind of the drowsy west,
Sleep, sleep,

By your mountain steep,
Or down where the prairie grasses sweep!
Now fold in slumber your laggard wings,
For soft is the song my paddle sings.

August is laughing across the sky,
Laughing while paddle, canoe and I
Drift, drift,

Where the hills uplift
On either side of the current swift.

The river rolls in its rocky bed;
The paddle is playing its way ahead;
Tip, dip,
While the waters flow

In foam as over their breasts we slip.

And oh, the river runs swifter now;
The eddies circle about my bow,
Swirl, swirl!

How the ripples curl
In many a dangerous pool awirl!

And forward far the rapids roar,
Fretting their margin for evermore.
Dash, dash,
With a mighty crash.

They seethe, and boil, and bound, and splash.

Be strong, O paddle! Be brave, canoe!
The reckless waves you must plunge into.
Reel, reel,
On your trembling keel,
But never a fear my craft will feel.

We've raced the rapid, we're far ahead,
The river slips through its silent bed.

Sway, sway,
As the bubbles spray
And fall in tinkling tunes away.

And up on the hills against the sky,
A fir tree rocking its lullaby,
Swings, swings,
Its emerald wings,
Swelling the song that my paddle sings.

At a parental gathering recently a lady toasted "The Gentleman" as follows: "Bless'm. They share our joys, they double our sorrows, they triple our expenses, they quadruple our cares, they excite our magnanimity, they increase our self respect, awaken our affection, control our property, and out-manoeuvre us in everything. This would be a dreary world without them. In fact, I may say without respect of successful contradiction, that without them this wouldn't be much of a world anyhow. CHAPTER LI
The Light

It was useless to argue with Lillas as Mrs. Anning soon discovered. At first, the farmer's wife declared that no such passage existed. Finally she had to admit that although she suspected the existence of such a means of communication, it was as much as her life was worth to allude to it.

Besides, what should Mr. Worth be doing there? she inquired. The morning of the inquest he left the farm and he's never been here since. I'll show you the letter he wrote me, telling me to send his things up to the Cyril Hotel, in London. After the inquest he shook hands with me and said good-bye. As handsome, nice and civil-spoken a young gentleman as I ever saw. I downright loved him.

And are you going to let this man you like so much starve to death, or lie, perhaps, bruised and bleeding, in some hole under the ground, parched and dying for air and food and water? Or perhaps dead already! Fanny, you must save him!

Fanny Anning, who was a soft-hearted soul, was moved to tears by Lillas's passionate appeal.

But what makes you think he is in that passage? she inquired.

I cannot tell you how I came to know, but it is certain that Harry was tricked into entering it on Friday afternoon, and that he was never seen to leave it. I was in the room when Lady Clavel warned Harry and Mr. Symonds as well that they would be killed if they did not go away. Mr. Symonds has been murdered; do you want Harry to be murdered, too? Take me at once to the entrance to the passage, for heaven's sake! And bring a lantern, and brandy, and food, and a knife to cut his bonds, in case they have pinioned him; I tell you I know he is dying; I dreamed of it for two nights; I feel it in every nerve! And I would die myself to save him!

The entrance is in Sammy's room, Mrs. Anning whispered. John is out, taking the younger children to tea with their grandmother at Lyllyngton. I haven't the key, and I dare not—

But I dare! cried Lillas. If you have not the key I will break open the door! Give me a hammer, and get me the things I want.

By mere force of will she compelled the half-reluctant elder woman to supply her with all the needed, and to bring her to the door of the outhouse. No key could be found to fit the lock, and the only window was a tiny skylight very high in the wall. In desperation, Lillas seized a hammer and beat at the panels of the door with a strength and fury which astonished Mrs. Anning, who put to shame by the girl's exertions, came vigorously to her aid. Between them the two women contrived to make an entrance by destroying the woodwork, and found themselves in a small apartment furnished as a bedroom.

there was nothing to attract attention. Lillas was down on her knees in a moment, pulling up the rug on the floor in the hope of finding the entrance to the passage, but her efforts were in vain. The farmer's wife had better luck. Against the wall of the house a chest of drawers was placed. This she drew out, and removing some old coats which were hanging on a nail above it, she disclosed the door of a cupboard in the wall.

It was locked, but served by their previous efforts, Lillas and Mrs. Anning rained blows upon the old wood until it flew into splinters about them. More than one secret was exposed to view within. A narrow winding staircase, built in the thickness of the wall, led upwards to the first floor and at their feet half a dozen stone steps led down into what looked like an open tomb.

Lillas had passed far beyond fear. Like many nervous, impressionable persons, she could forget all personal considerations when danger threatened those she loved. Holding the lantern aloft, she pushed forward through the damp, evil-smelling passage, which was ventilated at long intervals by funnels through the ground above.

Harry! Harry!
Lillas called his name, but no answer came. Here and there stones had fallen away and the narrow passage was in a ruinous condition. Mrs. Anning, whose ardour had by this time cooled and given place to a terrible fear of what her husband would say, pressed upon her heels and begged her to return.

It was all your fancy, my dear Miss Lillas! Do come back! When I think of my John—

Hush! What was that?
Both women heard the sound. It was like a stifled groan.

Lillas caught up her riding habit and ran in the direction whence it came.

Harry! Harry! she cried again. The next moment she was down on her knees on the stones, uttering little cries of pity and of horror.

Quick, Fanny! The knife to cut these cords. My poor darling Harry! He is gagged under this handkerchief, and Fanny, it is a handkerchief of Lady Anne's! He is not dead; he can't be dead, for we heard him try to cry out. Give me the brandy. The fiends, the wicked fiends, to leave him here to die. Harry, speak to me—oh, for God's sake, speak.

His head was resting on her knee, and her tears were falling fast over his face. Mrs. Anning was busy unfastening the cords with which his hands and feet were bound so tightly that they had cut into the flesh. But Harry, fortunately for him, was not of the type that is easily killed.

Stiff, sore, and weary, parched with thirst and tormented with hunger, left for two days and two nights in an intensely painful and cramped position on damp stones in poisonous air, with no hope of succour, he was still perfectly conscious, and had heard and understood every word that Lillas had said.

He had lain there all those hours with the last words which had been spoken to him ringing through his head—

By Lady Anne's orders you are to be left here to die.

No physical suffering could compare the mental torment he had endured.

Wm. Wood

Disillusion, heartache, and horror struggled in his brain against the faith he had resolved to hold.

She does not know! And if I must die, I will die believing in her.

Again and again he had repeated the words aloud through the long hours of darkness; and when, pale and shaken, but comparatively uninjured, he came out into the light of day, supported by the arm of Lillas, his first thought was that if he wanted to preserve his sanity, he must seek out Lady Anne and force the truth from her at last.

It was Miss Lillas, Mrs. Anning explained, sobbing noisily. She had dreamed two nights that you were dying, and she came over from Vale House half-crazy about you. You'd never think it, but she helped to break open two doors with a hammer, like one possessed.

A little later, as Harry, washed and shaved, with his wounded wrists bandaged, was seated in the oak-paneled front parlor, taking some much needed food, John Anning came home and saw him speaking to Lillas through the half-open door.

I owe my life to you, he was saying, and I cannot thank you enough. But before I do anything else I must go to the Abbey and settle my accounts there!

John Anning paused and listened. Then he crept out to the back and saw the two shattered doors of the outhouse. Without a word to his wife he strode out of the house and made his way to Loders Abbey.

An hour later Harry followed him. He rang three times at the gate before any answer came. Then Granmer Jessop opened the gate with trembling fingers and spoke to him in a voice which quivered.

Tell her from me, she said, that I've known it all along!

Harry had no idea of her meaning. His mind was too fully occupied with one burning subject to give much heed to her words. He found the house looking strangely deserted. Virginia had left on the previous evening and there was no one about as he passed through the open door, across the hall into the drawing-room.

Here he waited for several minutes and here Lady Anne joined him, gliding into the room and facing him with a set white face and no words of welcome.

Anne, he cried out passionately, I bring you nothing but pain and worry. But I must see Stephen Jessop. You have been deceived in him.

I have never been deceived in him, she answered quietly; and you shall see him. Follow me.

With that she led him across her dressing room which was adjoining Stephen's room and flung it open.

THE KNOW HOW To Feed Children and Get Good Results

There are more nervous persons made so by undigested food lying in the stomach than the average individual would suppose.

If food remains undigested in the stomach, it begins to ferment, set up gas and a large portion is thus converted into poison.

That's why imperfectly digested food, may, and often does, cause irritation of the nerves and stupor of the mind—brain and nerves are really poisoned.

"My daughter had complained for some time of a distressed feeling in the stomach, after eating, which set me thinking that her diet was not right," writes an anxious and intelligent mother.

"She had been fond of cereals, but had never tried Grape-Nuts. From reading the account of this predigested food, it seemed reasonable to try Grape-Nuts for her case."

"The results were really wonderful. The little brain that seemed at times unable to do its work, took on new life and vigor. Every morning, now, before going to school, she eats the crisp little morsels and is now completely and entirely well, she seems to have a new lease on life—no more distress in the stomach, nor headache, but sound and well everywhere." They Wanted to Hear it

Now, children, said the teacher to her kindergarten class, I want you all to be very quiet, so quiet in fact, that you could hear a pin drop.

Everything had quieted down nicely and the teacher was about to speak when a little voice in the rear of the school room squeaked forth: Go ahead, please, teacher, and let her drop.

Clean Stomach, Clear Mind.—The stomach is the workshop of the vital functions and when it gets out of order the whole system clogs in sympathy. The spirits flag, the mind droops and work becomes impossible. The first care should be to restore healthful action of the stomach and the best preparation for that purpose is Parlee's Vegetable Pills. General use for years has won them a leading place in medicine. A trial will attest their value.

In a certain town the local forecaster of the weather was so often wrong that his predictions became a standing joke, to his no small annoyance, for he was very sensitive. At length, in despair of living down his reputation, he asked headquarters to transfer him to another station.

Why, asked headquarters, do you wish to be transferred?

MOURNING IN GREECE

KING OF HELLENES A VICTIM OF ASSASSIN'S BULLET

King George of Greece was Shot Down on Streets of Saloniki, and Ancient Nation is Plunged in Mourning—Prince Constantine Will Succeed to Throne.

Saloniki.—King George of Greece was assassinated while walking in the streets of Saloniki. The assassin was a Greek of low mentality, who gave his name as Aleko Schinas. He shot the king through the heart. The king was accompanied only by an aide, Lieut.-Col. Francoudis. The assassin came suddenly at him and fired one shot from a seven chamber revolver. The tragedy caused intense excitement. Schinas was seized immediately and overpowered. The wounded king was lifted into a carriage and taken to Papation Hospital. He was still breathing, but died within half an hour.

Prince Nicholas, the king's third son, and other officers hurried to the hospital. Arriving first, Prince Nicholas summoned the officers and speaking in a voice choked with sobs said:

It is my deep grief to have to announce to you the death of our beloved king, and invite you to swear fidelity to your new sovereign, King Constantine.

Crown Prince Constantine, who succeeds King George, is at present at Janina. He is expected to come here with all possible speed.

The assassin of the king is an evil looking fellow about 40 years of age. Upon being arrested he refused to explain his motive for the crime. He declared that his name was Aleko Schinas, and, in reply to an officer who asked him whether he had no pity for his country, answered that he was against governments.

Schinas maintained a perfectly impassive demeanor, which was suggestive of his being irresponsible for his actions.

Notwithstanding the rapidity with which the king received attention he was found to be dead on arrival at the hospital. Precautions were at once taken throughout the city and perfect order is being maintained.

The king fell into the arms of his aide when shot. Two soldiers ran up on hearing the firing, and helped to support him. He was placed in a carriage and efforts were made to stop the bleeding, but he breathed his last on the way to the hospital nearby. When Prince Nicholas bade the officers to swear fealty to Constantine they shouted: Long live the King.

Prince Nicholas is the only member of the Royal family in Saloniki. Mourning emblems are displayed everywhere.

The Greek government has issued a proclamation announcing that the oath of fealty to King Constantine has been taken.

Since his triumphal entry into Saloniki, the king had been accustomed to take an afternoon walk to the famous White Tower or to the cavalry barracks in Lesser Karrabum. The king's confidence in the people was so great that he went about freely, accompanied only by a single eunuch. The danger of this custom was apparent to the members of his entourage, who repeatedly, but without avail, requested His Majesty to permit the presence of civil guards. A few days ago four gendarmes were ordered to follow the king but their presence was considered so objectionable by His Majesty that the number was reduced to two. These followed at some distance.

Immigration Figures

Winnipeg.—Although the increase in the immigration into Canada during February was a little less than in the first month of the year, the figures show an increase of 11 per cent. over the corresponding month in 1912. In February, 1913, those entering Canada by way of the ocean ports totaled 6,776 as against 5,339, in the corresponding month last year—in other words an increase this year of 26 per cent. The total arrivals from the United States, on the other hand, shows a decrease of 3 per cent. compared with February, 1912. Last year the total was 5,752, while last month it only reached 5,572.

Canadian Teachers Welcomed to Jersey

London.—Jersey will give a very hearty welcome to the Canadian teachers, if they decide to accept the invitation to visit the Channel Islands this year.

Sir William Vernon, chief magistrate of Jersey, is taking a deep interest in the proposed visit, and arrangements are being made for municipal fetes, a battle of flowers and similar entertainments which are a charming feature of the life of these islands. It is hoped that the visitors may be able to spend a few days on each of these islands, and the authorities and the various municipalities are combining to prepare an extensive programme of hospitality in honor of the Canadian teachers.

Settlers Flocking In

Calgary, Alta.—Hundreds of settlers are flocking into the Peace River country rapidly, according to the statement of Provincial Publicity Commissioner Charles Hotchkiss. For the past 30 days every trail leading into the Grande Prairie country has been black with home-seekers, many of whom are taking in with them stock, farm implements and provisions enough to last for a year.

TO SPEND MILLION

Thousands of Which to go to Dominion Parks

Edmonton, Alta.—Seventy thousand dollars for improvements to Jasper Park, three hundred thousand dollars for improvements to Rocky Mountain Park, Banff Glacier and Yoho Park; twenty-five thousand for the construction of a motor road from Kananaskie to Banff, twenty-five thousand for developments to Buffalo Park, Wainwright, and fifteen thousand for similar work at Waterton Lake Park.

The foregoing figures, exclusive of the new bath house at Banff, represent the amount to be expended in Dominion Parks during the coming year. Besides these amounts, the Grand Trunk Pacific will construct a tourist hotel which will cost in the neighborhood of three-quarters of a million. It will be located at the Miette Hot Springs.

WEST IMPORTS STOCK

Decay of Ranching Exemplified by Considerable Exports

Moose Jaw, Sask.—As further evidence as to the decay of ranching in western Canada, J. D. Watson, representing J. A. McIntosh of Great Falls, Mont., has arrived here with 250 head of stock which he brought up from eastern Canada. Previously this year he brought three hundred head to Western Canada from Montana and says there is another thousand head on order to supply the demands of packers and farmers. Last year, he brought 10 train loads of stock to help populate the farms and ranches of Alberta and Saskatchewan.

To Develop Coal Areas

Regina.—Hand in hand with the investigation into the practicability of diverting the water supply in the South Saskatchewan river is also to be instituted an investigation into the feasibility of generating power at the coal mines in Southern Saskatchewan and its distribution into the various centres of the province is also to be considered.

This work has been placed in the charge of A. J. McPherson, who has already arranged with S. M. Darling to install a test carbonizing plant at Estevan to try out a special method of treating the lignite coal to make it suitable for commercial purposes.

The scheme under way is to provide a means whereby this coal can be put on the market to meet competition of the coal from various other sources of supply. If the test proves successful, and Mr. McPherson has every hope that it will, it will be the means of developing the large resources in the way of low grade coal now existing throughout a large part of Saskatchewan. This work is an extension of the findings of the investigation made last year by H. Wynne-Roberts, and along the lines which were indicated to be most probably successful.

DOUBT BRITISH SUCCESS

U.S. Experts and Aeroplane Superiority in Britain's Army

Washington.—Aeroplane experts in the War and Navy Departments have scouted the idea that the British army has evolved a flying machine superior to any in the possession of other nations, as announced in the House of Commons by Colonel Seely, British Secretary of State for War. Captain Irvin Chambers, of the Bureau of Navigation of the Navy Department, was inclined to accord aeroplane honors to the French army experts. Officers in the signal corps of the army also expressed grave doubt that the British experts had made any revolutionary discoveries.

CHURCH AND STAGE

Protest Against Cramping Food Into British Suffragettes

London.—At a big public meeting, here strong public protests were registered against the forcible feeding of imprisoned suffragettes. The Bishop of Lincoln, who presided, declared that the suffrage movement was a grand demonstration of moral force against brute force.

Forbes Robertson, the actor-manager, asserted that forcible feeding would not be permitted in America.

George Bernard Shaw said it was illegal, but that Reginald McKenna, the Home Secretary, proposed to legalize it by act of parliament.

Bramwell Booth to Come

Toronto.—Bramwell Booth will make his first visit to Canada as commander in charge of the Salvation Army next fall, arriving here about November 1st. He will hold meetings in all important Salvation Army centres, with a special tour of Ontario, and make extensive inspection of the Canadian west with a view to more rapid immigration settlement. He will open new social working buildings at Fort William, Winnipeg and Calgary.

Australia Gives $10,000

Sydney, N.S.W.—The Federal Government has decided to make a contribution of $10,000 to the Scott Memorial Fund. The Prime Minister has received a letter from Commander Evans of the Terra Nova intimating the fact that it is the intention of members of the expedition to present the Commonwealth Government with complete records and publications of the expedition, including the history of the expedition written in Scott's own words.

CANADA IN LONDON

FINEST SITE IN METROPOLIS FOR DOMINION GOVERNMENT

Earl Grey Secures an Option on Valuable Property to be Used for Dominion Government Buildings—A Permanent Exhibition of Canadian Products.

London.—The Improvements Committee of the London County Council announces that Earl Grey has asked in consideration of a payment of $15,000 a year, to be granted an option for three years of taking the Strand site on conditions to be hereafter arranged. The area involved is about 124,000 square feet, and is considered to be the finest site for the new Dominion Government building which was proposed some time ago.

We gather, proceed the committee, that Earl Grey's object in desiring the option is to secure time to examine the possibilities of using the site for imperial purposes, although he is not in a position at present to define the special character of the uses to which the site would be devoted, as he points out that a decision on so important a question can only be arrived at after full and careful consideration by the Governments of the various self-governing Dominions. In discussing the character of the uses to which the site could be devoted under his scheme he states that should these Governments approve, it would be possible for them to concentrate the Dominion Government offices, now widely distributed in different parts of London and also to provide accommodation in London for the commercial and social needs of the Dominions.

A feature of the scheme would be to secure a permanent, well kept and up-to-date exhibition of manufactured articles in use in the Dominions, combined with adequate facilities for enabling the home manufacturers to get into direct touch with Dominion customers. Another important effect of the realization of the scheme would be to focus the attention of the home consumer more effectively on the quality of the products of the Dominions.

Toll of the Assassin Among the World

There is scarcely a country of the world that has not at some time felt the hand of the assassin. Emperors, kings, presidents, and statesmen have been slain by anarchists, persons disgruntled because of real or imaginary wrongs, fanatics, insane persons and political conspirators.

Since the year 1801 the toll of the assassin among world's rulers and presidents of republics is:

Paul, emperor of Russia, March 24, 1901.

Abraham Lincoln, president of the United States, April 14, 1865.

Abdul Aziz, sultan of Turkey, June 4, 1876.

James A. Garfield, president of the United States, July 2, 1881.

Sadi Carnot, president of France, June 24, 1894.

Nasr-ed-Din, shah of Persia, May 1, 1896.

Bordabidiarte, president of Uruguay August 25, 1897.

Elizabeth, empress of Australia, September 10, 1898.

General Herceux, president of the Dominican republic, July 26, 1899.

Humbert, king of Italy, July 29, 1900.

William McKinley, president of the United States, September 6, 1901.

Alexander, king of Serbia, June, 1902.

Gervais, queen of Serbia, July 1, 1902.

Carlos, king of Portugal, February 1, 1908.

Louis, crown prince of Portugal, February 1, 1908.

Strike Fight on Railroad

Philadelphia.—A free fight between 100 strikers and half as many men who were at work, during which two trains were stoned, and a track foreman badly injured, marked the strike of the Pennsylvania Railroad trainmen. The fight occurred in Frankfort a suburb, and continued until the arrival of a squad of policemen. The train passing at the time of the fight had several windows smashed and the crew of a freight train were compelled to seek refuge in box cars.

Robbed the Royal Bank

New York.—William B. Treffy, the young Canadian bank clerk who started capitals of Europe by lavish expenditures, was sentenced to Sing Sing for four years. He pleaded guilty to forgeries by which he defrauded the New York branch of the Royal Bank of Canada out of many thousands. With the aid of a young woman whom he met in New York he spent all of his money in Europe in about a month and returned to New York, where he was arrested.

To Meet Hon. G. E. Foster

Sydney, N.S.W.—Andrew Fisher, Premier of Australia, and the New Zealand Minister of Customs will meet the Canadian representative at the conference on trade reciprocity which takes place in Australia. A reciprocal agreement should be beneficial to both countries.

Fighting at Tchatalja

London.—A Constantinople dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says that the fighting at Tchatalja continues. The Turks have advanced about three miles north of Derkos and in the advance occupied many strategic points.

FAMOUS POLICE CHIEF

Louis Lepine, Prefect of Paris, Resigned After 20 Years Service

Paris.—Louis Lepine, the prefect of police, has resigned after 20 years of service. M. Lepine is 67 years old. After participation in the Franco-German war, he was called to the bar at Lyons, his birthplace, and in 1877 was appointed sub-prefect of the police. From 1888 to 1891 he was chief secretary of the prefect of police at Paris and in 1893 he succeeded M. Loz, as prefect of police.

M. Lepine was noted for his great activity during the troubles in Paris at the separation of church and state when he was continually on duty to suppress disturbances at the churches, which were occupied by militant congregations. He also attracted much attention by the aggressive manner in which he suppressed the gangs of apaches which for a time terrorized Paris, and he took a prominent part in the capture of the motor bandits whose organization was broken up last year.

Virtually every monarch or head of a state in Europe knew M. Lepine personally, for he was present at their arrivals and departures from the French capital and he took sole responsibility for the safety of these men. He was always in the best of the fighting when the recent labor demonstrations were in progress, or when the strikers got out of hand.

Saskatchewan Gains Award for Best Oats

Columbia, S.C.—Canada has just gained world-wide renown for its oats, the growers of this prize-winning cereal being J. C. Hill and Sons, Lloydminster, Sask., who have been awarded the Colorado Trophy for the best bushel of oats shown at the National Corn Exposition held here.

This prize of $1,000 was open for the whole of the North American continent.

J. C. Hill and Sons are now famous as growers of prize oats, as they captured the $1,000 for the best bushel at the Columbus, Ohio, Corn Show last year. The family belongs to the Barr Colonias, and ten years ago, when they left London, they had absolutely no knowledge of farming. Since starting in the West, however, they have given up most of their time and ground to the growing of oats.

Warns Outsiders Against Making Rash Rushes

Vancouver.—W. M. Ogilvie, M.P., of Ottawa, son of former governor of Klondike, has just returned from Silver Creek country where there is now a great stampede. Scores of miners are going north by every steamer from Seattle and Vancouver.

Mr. Ogilvie said: "I think it my duty to warn the people on the outside from being stampeded. Nothing has yet been proved and if work this spring is successful there will be lots of time to get in on the ground floor. The alleged discovery was made by Indians, who are poor prospectors and nobody has seen any of the gold they are supposed to have found. Several parties who hiked to the scenes told me that they returned without locating claims, the conditions being unfavorable owing to the snow fall."

STICKS TO THE BARS

Whitney Will Not Move for Their Abolition, He Says

Toronto.—Ontario bars will not be abolished. The local option law will remain in force, because it is considered to be just. The government from time to time, when it is thought advisable, will enact further restriction on the traffic to minimize its sale.

The above is the government's policy. The long debate on the temperance issue was wound up by Sir James Whitney and the leader of the Opposition, and the points brought out by both speakers were nowise new. The government amendments were carried by 75 to 17. Allan Studholme, Labor member, East Hamilton, voted with the Opposition.

Extreme Regret at Bryan's Speech

London.—Following up the Post's attack on Wm. Jennings Bryan, the American secretary of state, for his speech at the St. Patrick's Day banquet given by Irish Americans at Washington, recently, the Standard says:

If Mr. Bryan really expresses the views of the cabinet and the president, the relations between Great Britain and the United States may enter upon a phase which would be regarded with extreme regret by a majority of the sensible moderate persons of both countries.

The Standard describes Secretary Bryan's speech as a fine example of virulent and inflated nonsense which the inferior kind of demagogue talks when he wants to catch Irish votes.

BANKERS WITHDRAW

United States Trio Will Not Go Into Loan to China

New York.—As a result of the statement by President Wilson that his administration would not request the American bankers heretofore interested in the negotiations for the six-power loan to China to continue to seek their share of the loan, the three banking houses in the so-called American group announced their withdrawal. The announcement followed a conference of the banking interests concerned at the offices of Morgan and Company.

LESSON XIII.—FIRST QUARTER, FOR MARCH 30, 1913

Text of the Lesson, Comprehensive Quarterly Review—Read Heb. xi, 1-19—Golden Text, Ps. xxii, 4—Commentary by Rev. D. M. Stearns

Lesson I.—The Creation, Gen. i, 1. "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth." The Golden Text is a wondrous statement containing just seven Hebrew words of twenty-eight Hebrew letters and tells the whole creation story, which is stated in other words in Ps. xxxiii, 6, 9. Heb. xi, 3. Gen. i, 2, tells of a great catastrophe which brought the earth into a condition of chaos, waste and void, from which it was delivered in six days by the Creator.

Lesson II.—Man the Crown of Creation, Gen. i, 26, 27; ii, 7-9, 15-24. Golden Text, Gen. i, 27, "God created man in His own image." After a great and perfect restoration God made man male and female, man from the dust and woman from a part of man, and gave them dominions over all the works of His hands. In these two chapters we have a perfect earth, after the restoration without sin or curse of any kind, and God in fellowship with man. We have also the institution of the Sabbath and marriage.

Lesson III.—Man's First Sin, Gen. iii, 1-12, 22-24. Golden Text, John viii, 34, "Every one that committeth sin is the servant of sin." Here we have the first mention of that old serpent, the devil, the first destructive critic questioning the word of God and the love of God and making God a liar. In the third chapter from the end of the Bible we have his final doom. In this lesson chapter we have also the first mention of a deliverer, the way of salvation and the future glory of the redeemed.

Lesson IV.—Cain and Abel, Gen. iv, 1-15. Golden Text, 1 John iii, 15, "Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer." Adam, having been taught the way of redemption and of approach to God (Gen. iii, 21), taught his children and their children. Abel believed God and came obediently, bringing his sacrifice. Cain was what might be called a Unitarian, having no use for the shedding of blood, but deemed the best he had would be acceptable. He was therefore rejected.

Lesson V.—The Flood, Gen. vi, 9, 12; vii, 11-24. Golden Text, Rom. vi, 23, "The wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord." Cain turned his back upon God after he had killed his brother, and his descendants began to build cities, invent musical instruments, work in brass and iron and improve things generally, but all without God, and wickedness became so great that God had to cut off the race by a deluge, saving only Noah and his family.

Lesson VI.—God's Covenant with Noah, Gen. ix, 8-17. Golden Text, Gen. ix, 13, "I do set my bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a token of a covenant between me and the earth." The next destruction will be by fire at the end of this age, but we look for a new earth wherein dwelleth righteousness.

Lesson VII.—The Call of Abram, Gen. xii, 1-9. Golden Text, Gen. xii, 2, "I will bless thee and make thy name great, and be thou a blessing." Instead of dealing longer with the world, God separates a man, a family, a nation and in the present age a church, to be His special people through whom He may reveal Himself whom He may bless and make a blessing.

Lesson VIII.—Abram and Lot, Gen. xiii, 1-12. Golden Text, Prov. x, 22, "The blessing of Jehovah; it maketh rich, and He addeth no sorrow therewith." Abram found sorrow in Egypt, and Lot found sorrow in Sodom, but both were for the time out of fellowship. It was good for Abram to get back to Bethel and to find a resting place and altar at Hebron.

Lesson IX.—God's Covenant with Abraham, Gen. xv, 5-18. Golden Text, Heb. x, 23, "He is faithful that promised." Let no one pass by the wondrous story of Melchizedek nor fail to notice the many new words of this chapter—the first "Fear not," "Believe," "Righteousness" and many others.

Lesson X.—The Destruction of Sodom, Gen. xix, 12-17, 23-29. Golden Text, II Cor. vi, 17, "Come ye out from among them and be ye separate saith the Lord, and touch no unclean thing." The Lord Jesus referred to both the deluge and the destruction of Sodom and said that the end of this age will be similar as to sin and judgment.

Lesson XI.—The Text of Abraham's Faith, Gen. xxii, 1-13. Golden Text, Hos. vi, 6, "I desire goodness and not sacrifice and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings." Isaac was the promised seed in whom the promises were to be fulfilled, but God would have us rest in Himself regardless of what we see or feel.

Lesson XII.—Isaac and Rebekah, Gen. xxiv, 58-67. Golden Text, Prov. iii, 6, "In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He will direct thy paths." Jesus Christ, risen from the dead, is now awaiting His bride, the church, the Lamb's wife, which the Holy Spirit is preparing by telling of the glory of God, and of Christ and the riches of Grace. Soon the gathering will be complete and our Isaac will welcome us home.

So late as 1513 the city of London had only thirteen doctors, counting surgeons and all.

Lincoln, Neb., March 24—One hundred are dead, twice as many more were injured, some fatally, by the death-dealing tornado which devastated Omaha and environs early last evening. It demoralized telegraph and telephone service and cut off Omaha from communication with the outside world. Property damage will mount up into the hundreds of thousands.

The tornado swept in from the southwest and zig-zagged to the northeast over the residence portion of the city, leaving in its wake destruction and carnage from two to four blocks wide. Fire sprung up all over this area and added to the horror of the twister. Firemen were unable to respond to the numerous alarms, and many houses were allowed to burn to the ground. The police were unable to properly police the stricken district, and the soldiers from Fort Omaha were called out. The tornado zone soon was practically under martial law. The villages of Benson, Dundee and Florence, suburbs of Omaha, were practically wiped out.
Only the fact that a heavy rain fell for half an hour after the tornado saved
the mass of wreckage and many dead bodies being burned.

ONTARIO SUFFERS

Toronto, March 23—During the whole of Friday the province of Ontario was in the throes of the fiercest quinoxial gale that has visited this country in many years. From every city reports have been received of damage done reaching in many cases to thousands of dollars, though strangely enough very few persons were seriously injured. The chief disaster occurred in Sturgeon Falls,
where the tower of the fire hall blew down just as the brigade was responding to an alarm.

It fell on the engine, killing Fireman
King, while Fireman Herlin and Fireman Silvester may die of the injuries received. To give a detailed account of the property losses in the province is impossible, as every town had houses and sheds wrecked, chimneys blown down, windows broken and telegraph poles and wires mixed up in torn masses across the streets; hundreds of barns lost their roofs and hundreds of trees, especially in the open, were torn up by the roots.

In Toronto the worst losses reported were a department house and a moving picture theatre. Both of these were in the process of construction and the wind played havoc with the unfinished structures.

In Cobalt the Roman Catholic church was wrecked during the service, and a number of the worshippers had narrow escapes. The towns of North Bay and Owen Sound were two of the places that suffered most severely, and from the former comes the report of one man seriously injured by flying debris. All communication, especially in northern Ontario, was cut off, as the wires were all down.

In Hamilton a number of houses were demolished and many roofs blown off.
A large piece of metal from a wrecked building fell through the glass of the Royal hotel dining room, frightening the guests, but fortunately no one was hurt. No estimate of the losses can be given, but it will probably total some hundreds of thousands of dollars.

ENGLAND DOES NOT ESCAPE

London, March 24—The south of England has been visited by a storm of hurricane force during the last two or three days. All the seaside places on the south coast have suffered greatly. The wind blew 80 miles an hour, throwing up tremendous tides
which flooded the various prome-nades. At Worthing the long iron pier was badly damaged by great waves that washed over it and cut off the pavilion from the shore just after the people had abandoned it.

Why It Pays to Build Good Roads

(By R. A. McFadden, Macleod, Alta., winner of the first prize in the good roads
educational contest at the Dry Farming Congress.)

A good road should be regarded as an asset to every person living within the community through which it passes, and especially to farmers whose property is saved by such road. A farm may be ever so efficient from the standpoint of buildings, cultivators, etc., but if difficult of access to and from the outside world, its value is greatly impaired.

Among reasons may be mentioned,
first, the reduction in the cost of hauling products and necessities to and from the farm. The cost of transportation with the farmer, as with the railway companies, depends upon the scale upon which it is conducted. Thus it costs but little more for one man and horses to draw two or three tons than for the same equipment to draw one ton, providing the state of the road is such as to permit, and this in the aggregate provides an economy scarcely to be estimated to the country at large, especially where distances from town are frequently great. The cost of delivering a carload of wheat from the farmer's granary to the railway station often exceeds the freight charges to the terminal elevator, although the latter distance may be incomparably greater, and this is determined by the state of the road over which it must pass.

Then, too, the marketable value of a property is much increased if reached by a good road. First impressions of a purchaser are usually the most lasting, and these are not likely to be favorable if the farm must be reached over ruts, stones and slough holes, and he will probably go elsewhere.

These may be called apparent reasons for the building of good roads, but there are others, which though less apparent are none the less real. For example, a farmer fills his wagon box with wheat and starts for town. He soon passes over a stone or through a hole, and the jar shakes off a quantity of wheat. This is repeated several times. Other farmers do the same, until the wheat scattered along the trails would form the output of a moderate farm. Such shaking is also very trying on wagons, and after a few years of such treatment they show unmistakable signs of wear, and do not last more than half the time they should. The farmer may attribute the loss of his grain, or the wearing of his wagon, to the roughness of the road, but nevertheless they are chargeable, in no small degree, to this cause.

A horse may also be sweened or otherwise injured by the jolt of a heavy load over a rough place and the owner
not know how or when it was done.

For the above reasons it is a safe statement that under ordinary conditions,
any administration having the oversight of roadmaking would be justified in creating a bonded indebtedness for the purpose, leaving posterity to pay, and the benefits arising would repay the interest
many times over in the social and moral uplift which it would provide.

Edmonton Spring Show

The Edmonton Spring Show and sale of pure bred live stock, to be held in the exhibition grounds under the auspices of the Edmonton Exhibition Association on April 2 and 3, promises to be a big success. This is of course very gratifying to the Alberta Provincial Pure-bred Societies, under whose management, in conjunction with the Exhibition Association, the show and sale are being conducted.

A large number of entries have already been received, including Holsteins, Ayrshires, beef and dairy Shorthorns.
The show of horses will also be a magnificent feature of the show.
Edmonton has already made a name second to none in western Canada for shows of live stock and this year promises to be better than ever.

The farmers of the province are fortunate in being able to secure pure bred stock in this way. For many years to come the demand for good stock will far exceed the local supply, and many far sighted farmers have already signified their intention of taking advantage of this opportunity to secure foundation stock from which to build up herds.

Excursion rates on all railways,
single fare return, good going April 1st, 2nd and 3rd and returning up to the 5th.

Influence of Good Books in the Home

By K. G. ADAM, Elkton.

Character forming is the most important work of our lives. It begins at our birth and is never ended. However, the greater portion of it is formed in our youth, hence the importance of noble examples and high ideals set before us while young.

Perhaps nowhere do we find nobler examples of the types of men and women that God intended us to be than in good books. It is true that the character of fictitious people are usually overdrawn, and the ideals are impossible for us to reach, but at the same time if it is an impossible perfection we are all the better for having striven for it.

One cannot be too careful in the selection of literature for the home. From my own experience I am inclined to believe that our natures are more or less susceptible to light reading, and once one has developed a taste for the high kind it is hard to break away from it and really enjoy a book that is worth reading.

It is something very hard to discern the chaff from the wheat. What may appear to be a good book may in reality be very harmful in its influence. The good parts serve only as a bait and blinds us to the faults of the rest of it.

We need not necessarily confine our selection to deep, ponderous books, but be sure they are useful books—not only in our actual professions, but see that they have a close relation to our very being. Books that keep us in our difficulties, stores our minds with new ideas and fills them with good and happy thoughts which lift us out and above ourselves.

I think that the safest rule to follow in the selection of books is a definite knowledge of the author himself—his life, ideals, beliefs, etc. If we are not satisfied in this, his productions will not suit us.

Good literature in a home, I think,
must be one of the most attractive things in it. Nothing would serve better to keep a family at home and together.
The contents of books read aloud by the parents, while we were yet real young,
is still very fresh in our memory.

Books should be our best friends and treasured as such. It is true, as one author has said, that "No one can read a good and interesting book for an hour without being the better and happier for it; not merely for the moment, but the memory remains with us, stores of bright and happy thoughts which we can call up when we will."

"Leave to enjoy myself. That place that does contain my books, the best companions, is to me a glorious court where hourly I converse with the old sages and philosophers."

Good Time Coming

Edmonton, Alta., March 24.—Prof.
Francis J. Lewis of the department of biology of the University of Alberta in Edmonton, said in the course of a public address here yesterday that with the knowledge already possessed by science it should be possible to remove every form of epidemic of the known world within 50 years. He added that this conclusion also fits the economic world, saying its application to the strife between capital and labor would remove all friction before the close of 1960.

Referring to the question of disease,
the speaker said there is none known to nature, except amongst the human race,
which means either extermination or readjustment. The former results in the case of man; but with nature it is otherwise, as it has the ability to adjust itself to environment and conditions.

Delving into the subject of organic evidences of evolution, he showed the process which is at work in the physical world, declaring that the struggle for existence is confined solely to the members of their class. He laid special stress upon the statement that the different classes are not in competition with each other. The remedy, he said, and offered proof in the form of civilization, discovered in Java, that man, in very primitive condition, existed in the tertiary period, or many millions of years ago.

"A Significant Witness"

In connection with this naval discussion these words from the original Admiralty memorandum should not be overlooked:

"But the aid which Canada could give
at the present time is not to be measured by ships or money. Any action on the part of Canada to increase the power and mobility of the Imperial navy and thus widen the margin of our common safety could be recognized everywhere as a most significant witness to the united strength of the Empire, and to the renewed resolve of the overseas dominions to take their part in maintaining its integrity."

This is the basis of the Borden policy now before the country. There is no intention to institute any system of tribute.
If we cannot secure through constitutional change our share of control of imperial affairs, we shall have to fall back on our own navy.

But the premier declares that it is worth while making an effort to bring about a partnership arrangement and that in the meanwhile we owe it to the motherland to give such a "significant witness" as is now proposed.

It is due from us as a small payment of many years' arrears, and its effect on the whole international situation is such as "is not to be measured in either ships or money."

Eddy's Washboards

Washday Loses Half Its Terrors

Why he was Glad

The man with the long beard stood pensively at the curbing gazing at the passing traffic in the street. I hail with delight the advent of the automobile, he muttered aloud, for no longer need I fear crossing the street lest some hungry horse mistakes me for a walking tale of hay.

Minard's Liniment Cures Dandruff.

The pie trust would retire from the field vanquished and binding up the wounds to its pocketbook were the women to fight it with the kind of pies that mother used to make.

The man who lives beyond his means pays for it, if not in cash.

A girl who knows she is pretty likes to have her suspicions corroborated.

An Example

Wealth doesn't always bring happiness, remarked the youngster with the large spectacles. Now, asserted the other kid. Look at me cousin yonder. He's got two cents, and he can't decide between lollipops and chewing gum.

Young man (whispering to jeweller)—That engagement ring I bought of you yesterday—

Jeweller—What's the matter with it, didn't it fit? Young man (cautiously)—Sh! It did not have a chance. Gimme studs for it.

A MESSAGE FOR THOSE WHO SUFFER

MRS. E. J. TALBOT TELLS THEM TO FIND A CURE IN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

She Had Rheumatism, Lumbago, and Neuralgia and Found the Remedy She Was Looking for in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Hamilton, Ont. (Special).—"I know there are a lot of people who suffer and do not know what will cure them. Dodd's Kidney Pills will."

These are the words of Mrs. E. J. Talbot who resides at 293 Wellington street north this city. And Mrs. Talbot speaks out of her own experience.

"Last July I was very sick," Mrs. Talbot continues. "My heart bothered me, my limbs were heavy, and I had a dragging sensation across the loins. Rheumatism, lumbago, and neuralgia added to my sufferings, and the doctor I called in did not help me much."

"I finally decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I have used seven boxes and I am so much stronger and better that I feel I must recommend them to others."

Mrs. Talbot's complication of troubles all came from sick kidneys. That's why Dodd's Kidney Pills cured them. For Dodd's Kidney Pills are no cure-all. They simply cure kidney disease of any kind. They never fail to do that.

Of Course

Oh, Helen! Suppose I should faint some time, and I should come to in some young man's arms! What would I do? Why, Margaret, keep your eyes closed of course.

BABY'S GOOD HEALTH

The good health of baby depends entirely upon whether his stomach and bowels are kept right or not. Keep the bowels working regularly and the little stomach sweet and baby will be well and happy. To do this use Baby's Own Tablets—they are a gentle laxative and have no equal. Mrs. Chas. Lapierre, Les Boies, Que., says: "I have found Baby's Own Tablets very good for my baby and they kept him in good health." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The sun may shine tomorrow, but that won't serve as an umbrella today.

Could Hardly Live for Asthma. Writes one man who after years of suffering has found relief through Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. Now he knows how needless has been his suffering. This matchless remedy gives sure help to all afflicted with asthma. Inhaled as smoke or vapor it brings the help so long needed. Every dealer has it or can get it for you from his wholesaler.

Indeed Who Would?

Listen to this, wife, said Mr. Hubby, looking up from his newspaper. For every missionary sent abroad last year, America sent 1,469 gallons of liquor.

Merciful goodness! exclaimed wife, who'd ever think missionaries were such drinkers?

He Knew

Tommy, said his mother, what would you like to give your cousin Willie for his birthday.

I know what I'd like to give him, answered Tommy, who had been bullied by the other boy, but I ain't big enough.

Minard's Liniment for sale everywhere.

Degraded

You are very low, observed the weather man.

Yes, replied the official thermometer, regretfully, I fear I have taken a drop too much.

Hard Work

So you have a city job, have you?

Yes.

Don't have to do any work, I suppose?

I don't, eh? I have to get my pay warrant every month and sign it and get it cashed.

"The Only Cure for Piles"

Writes Mr. Taylor in Telling His Experience With Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. M. Taylor.

Because Dr. Chase's Ointment brings almost immediate relief from the dreadful itching, burning, stinging sensations of piles, it is well worth the attention of everyone suffering from this annoying disease.

In most cases, even after years of standing, Dr. Chase's Ointment makes a thorough and lasting cure of itching, bleeding and protruding piles. Mr. Maxwell Taylor, Charlottetown, P.E.I., writes: "To all sufferers from piles in any form I would recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as the only cure. Over a year ago while in Boston I became afflicted with a dreadful itching. I went to a doctor, who gave me some ointment, which made me no better. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and by the use of two boxes I was entirely cured. You may publish this statement in order that other sufferers may profit by my experience."

Dr. Chase's Ointment can better prove its value by the relief it affords than by all the words we could use in its praise. 60 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

In the spring the young man's fancy gets a hunch that he will have to get busy or there won't be any summer clothes for him.

New Movie House

Arrangements are being made by Mr. R. H. Ussher to open up the building opposite the Pioneer office a moving picture house to be called the "Bijou" theatre. It is expected that the theatre will be ready for opening by April 1st. It will be on the ground floor with comfortable seating, perfect ventilation, fireproof operating room and machine and well designed exits. The management are doing everything in their power to give Didsbury some clean amusement in a safe and comfortable building and it will be the fault of the Didsbury public if this venture is not a success.

Holiness Convention

The Interdenominational Holiness Convention which was held here last week was especially well attended and proved a success in every respect.

A special feature of encouragement was the representation of young people which very largely constituted the singing delegation, and who were intensely interested and unhesitatingly and with enthusiasm testified to definite knowledge of personal salvation from sin.

This interdenominational work is fast gaining a strong foothold here and elsewhere in the province, bearing with it the assurance of divine approval and blessings to the churches.

Alberta Rich in Mineral Wealth

Edmonton, March 17.—Ore samples tested by competent analysts at the assaying laboratory of the University of Alberta in Edmonton prove that the mineral wealth of the province has as yet only been vaguely surmised. Some of the ore runs high in gold, silver and copper, while other pieces show iron and lead. Prospectors who have tramped over the foothills of the Canadian Rockies predict that the next big "rush" on the North American continent will be into northwestern Alberta and British Columbia, adding that the vast hinterland also will be a scene of activity with the introduction of transportation lines. More than a dozen exploration companies are boring for oil, natural gas and asphaltum in districts north of Edmonton, and as the tests are highly satisfactory they will continue development work throughout the season.

The world takes off its hat to the man who succeeds; but to the man who fails, it takes off the man's hat—also his coat and his shirt and his shoes.

The best way to get out of a poor job and get into a better one is to fit it so full you overflow it.
